Executive Dashboards

PRODUCT FACTSHEET

SYSPRO Executive Dashboards gives executives a quick and easy way to summarize complex information. Designed to be an interactive visual representation of real-time data, this solution enables business managers to measure and monitor business performance, and conduct what-if modelling.

SYSPRO Executive Dashboards provide a number of predefined dashboards that enable executives to gain an immediate view of their business through a simple select-and-drop mechanism. SYSPRO recognizes that every executive has unique information requirements and therefore additional dashboards can be created through the use of Crystal Dashboard Designer[1]. This allows businesses the flexibility to personalize their dashboards or even build their own custom applications.

[1]Crystal Dashboard Designer is a product which delivers next-generation visual analysis tools that allows users of different skill levels in small, midsize, and enterprise companies transform complex business data into actionable visual information.
